2.3 Re-en/de-en

Category	Question/Action item	Responsible	Comment
Notified Party	Enhance co-incident/multiple service orders logic to include 'Notified Party' transaction in case of a remote re-en and/or remote de-en	Contestable MCs
		NSW DNSPs
		SA DNSP
		QLD DNSP
NMI Discovery	Date/type of de-energisation: NMI Discovery to include the date/type of de-energisation performed for a particular NMI by the MP, and accessible by retailers.	AEMO
E-hub	E-hub search functionality: E-hub to provide Service providers a method to lookup for any pending SO that have been raised against a NMI. This could be used to check before a DE-EN is performed.	AEMO
	E-hub routing functionality: Based on previous SO, e-hub to determine where to send the subsequent REEN/DEEN SO. If de-en was received after re-en (5 business days threshold logic), e-hub to reject the de-en based on pending re-en (other business rules to be included however just need to understand e-hubs viability).	AEMO
	E-hub two SO functionality: E-hub to receive a single re-en SO and creates two separate SOs (A & B) and forwards one each to the DNSP and MP. The party that performs an action either executes the RE-EN or receives a Coincident DE-EN SO will respond to this request. The other party that does nothing will respond as site already reenergised and ignores the SO. The E-hub will apply the same logic as it does with Notified Party today, absorbs the redundant response transaction while sends a valid response to the original SO, maintaining the B2B 1:1 protocol relationship for the initiator.	AEMO
	E-hub NP functionality: E-hub automatically generates a notified party (NP) of all REEN/DEEN SO to current MP/MC and LNSP roles of that NMI.	AEMO
CR 1000	Enhance co-incident/multiple service orders logic to include 'CR 1000' transaction in case of a remote re-en and/or remote de-en	Contestable MCs NSW DNSPs SA DNSP QLD DNSP
